

Chiropractic Therapy

Combat pain, restore function and promote a well-balanced lifestyle

Chiropractic treatments provide restorative, pain-relieving, healing for injuries and chronic conditions. Therapeutic care centers around a non-invasive treatment protocol that is precisely engineered to locate and quickly resolve soft-tissue disorders. We specialize in active release therapy which determines the root issue, instead of focusing on the pain, which delivers more effective treatments to a targeted structure.

Chiropractic therapy is a safe and effective method of manipulating the neuro-musculoskeletal system. When your body becomes misaligned, several negative factors can be involved. For example, a headache could be the end result for a subluxation of the spine. The body's nervous system travels like a highway through the musculoskeletal system and our providers understand the safe and effective methods of manipulating them for better health.

Chiropractic Therapy

Why choose Chiropractic care?

When you have a workplace injury or repetitive motion condition, early therapy helps your employees feel better sooner and reduces their odds of needing surgery, pain meds, or imaging.

Choose Chiropractic Care first. Our Chiropractors provide evidence-based treatment that incorporates skilled hands on care combined with job specific functional activities that promote early return to work and lower costs for employers.

Get employees back to work fast. Active Treatment is the first step on the road to recovery so injured workers can return to work and life, pain-free as quick as possible.

Quicker access to the care you need. Our patients are usually seen within two to three days of scheduling an appointment, and, sometimes, the same day.

Lower costs and reduced need for additional healthcare services. The right physical therapy can help you avoid surgery, imaging, and prescription pain medications. This saves you time and money.

Better outcomes and higher satisfaction. Patients who seek physical therapy first have a higher level of satisfaction with their care and better outcomes.

Your employees can see a Chiropractor at our clinics today!

Contact Agile today for a no-obligation, free quote on setting up a therapy services program for your company. Our clinical team will review your requirements, make recommendations and present you with options to ensure your employees stay healthy and safe.
